This tour is specific due to the varied high-quality landscapes crossed when rowing on the different water bodies. First, you will take the Haut-Rhône canal, dug by the Compagnie Nationale du Rhône, then the Savières canal linking the Rhône river to the Bourget lake, after carrying the boats at the Lavours dam. You will cross Chanaz, one of the most beautiful villages in France, before arriving at the Bourget lake, a majestic lake between the Jura and Préalpes mountains. On the wild coast, you will be able to contemplate the Hautecombe abbey, if the weather is fine.
